

I am writing in support of K-LOVE radio, on 90.5 and 91.5 FM in my area. In my community (Bartholomew county and its surroundings), K LOVE serves as the ONLY source for commercial-free contemporary Christian music. If it were displaced by an LPFM broadcaster, there would be no local source for this music in my area. The closest option would be a commercial radio station in Indianapolis, whose reception is not always good down here (about 50 miles SE of Indpls). K-LOVE provides a service in our area that is definitely in the public interest: Good, "clean" music without commercials, news updates hourly, stimulating public-interest programs, the weekly "top 20" of Contemporary Christian Music, and artist highlights are just a few of the services provided to our area by K-LOVE. In fact, K-LOVE is only heard in our area and in the Indianapolis area in the whole state of Indiana. If we lost 91.5 FM in our area, we cannot get 90.5 FM nor can we get 104.3 FM out of Cincinnati. I am asking the FCC not to expand LPFM that would allow them to take priority over current FM translator services. Thank you.
